

Coding

The coding series features game based curricula designed to introduce and reinforce conceptual learning in a fun and engaging way for students. These units include unplugged activities where students can explore coding in a physical space, worksheets to help organize student thinking, and online games to practice their skills.